If you look very carefully at the `getValRep()` and `_cm_getValRep()` methods inside `std.table.class.inc` you will see that they both have optional arguments for `$where` and `$orderby`. Inside the `_cm_getValRep()` method you will see the following line of code:

```
$data = $this->getData($where);
```

This means that all you have to do is supply a value for `$where` when you call the `getValRep()` method.
