Thank you for the answer. I tried this but I failed probably because my query wasn't correct. I think I will try to get the query right...

At the moment I store the needed values in the _cm_initialise() method in $GLOBALS. So I can use them in the report too. But I think your way is better. Thank you.