Good day to all!!!

I'm currently working on reports on our system using the radicore. I have observed that reports commonly used here are in pdf layout. I would just like to ask if it is possible for radicore to export data into an excel file because i would like to create a report wherein instead of creating a pdf file, i'll just download the data from radicore's database and export it to the excel template i have made(with the aid of a "button"). Can you please sir/mam help me with this one because i'm just new in this process? Thank you very much!
