Subject: Re: Problem with db
Posted by AJM on Wed, 19 Apr 2006 20:42:33 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

(a) It sounds like you have left the line $GLOBALS['dbprefix'] = '*'; in your CONFIG.INC file. You should edit this to set the correct prefix, or use NULL if you have no prefix.

(b) You cannot change the names of the various databases. You must keep the names that are supplied in the various sql scripts as they are not configurable.

(c) The file ../errorlog.hml is used to to store error messages, therefore you need to ensure that the application has write access to it.