Not sure if this is a bug or something I have missed somewhere...

I am producing a simple PDF list report which has a sort order defined in the task. Works normally.

However, if I click the RESET button before clicking the PDF list navigation button (e.g. to clear a previous search criteria before printing) I find that the report is printed in reverse order.

If I go back to the previous parent task and return again the sort order is restored until the next time the RESET button is pressed.

[Using 1.53 but I don't think it is a recent bug. Noticed it a while ago but didn't investigate further at the time]
