I had not realised that you expected the data to be formatted BEFORE the call to _cm_listView_header(). Is this what you want?

Which is more logical to you? Perform the formatting on the row data BEFORE or AFTER the call to _cm_listView_header()? This would mean that if you want any changes made in _cm_listView_header() to be formatted then you will have to do it yourself.

It would be a simple cange to make - just move line 22 to below line 25.
