Subject: Re: Action bar
Posted by AJM on Fri, 16 Apr 2010 16:32:33 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

The label text for 'action' buttons is taken from file 'sys.language_text.inc' which exists in the 'radicore/menu/text/<language>/' subdirectory where <language> is 'en' for 'English'. If you wish to create labels in a different language then you must first copy the existing English files into a new <language> subdirectory. Once this has been done you can customise the text as much as you want.

You should NEVER change the contents of the 'en' (English) subdirectory to suit a language other than English. It is part of the Radicore design, as discussed in Internationalisation and the Radicore Development Infrastructure that a totally separate set of files is maintained for each language you wish to support. In this way it will be possible for different users to access the same application at the same time, but in different languages.

If you change anything in the 'radicore/menu/text/en/' subdirectory be aware that it will be overwritten in the next release.