Subject: Re: How to provide choices for two compound foreign keys in a form?
Posted by AJM on Wed, 22 Jul 2015 10:30:17 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

You can use a popup button. You can jump to a popup2 which will show the family name as the parent and family variants as the child. Upon entry you can detect that no family name has been chosen, so you can jump automatically to a popup1 whuch will show a list of family names and allow the user to pick one. This will then return to the popup2 which will be able to show the variants for the selected name.