Regarding (1) So, yes this is exactly what I was thinking--to use '123' (strings) for my user_ids in RDC instead of proper names, and hope that RDC might try to CAST or convert automagically. But, you think the answer is ...

No, it should not work, as is. But how many changes to RDC do you think would be required to add code to catch UPDATES/INSERTS to these specific fields, by hacking the DAO?
