I have found a solution. In the class file I insert a field in $row as field label. I examine the value of the field 'training_plan_detail_uebung_ablauf'. If it is null, the value for the (new) field 'training_plan_detail_uebung_ablauf_label' is null, too. So I can use the property 'ignore_if_empty' for the field label in the report.

Or is there a better/easier solution?

There is one problem left: The positions of the 'multiN' rows don't move to top if I have no output although I have inserted the property 'ignore_if_empty'. Do I have to do something more?
