I have told you what your mistake is - you have all the output in a single 'multi1' element which spans multiple lines, and sometimes one (or more) of those lines you want not to appear instead of being output as blank lines. You should have each line of output in its own 'multiN' element so that line 1 is 'multi1', line 2 is 'multi2', line 3 is 'multi3' et cetera. If you do not want a particular line to appear then output an empty row for that line.
