Yes. That is how I was able to get the other relationships done.

Please note that the menu and dict export sqls for xample prototype is duplicated in the sql/mysql/ and sql/ folders in the latest distribution.

I will try again on a fresh install.

The Home link should be available along with the links at the top since it is missing in some places. Synchronising the naming of the links / buttons with the breadcrumbs would be useful.

Is there a GitHub repo for Radicore? Mirroring it there would be useful.
