In the zip download there is a folder called radicore/workflow/docs which contains a workflow-examples.html (this is also available at http://www.radicore.org/demo/workflow/docs/workflow-examples .html)

This shows a diagram of each of the different sample workflows which are available in the workflow database. Only one of these samples can be active at any one time, so by changing the end_date you can make a different one "current" as of today's date. A workflow is inactive if its end_date is in the past, or active/current if its end_date is in the future.
