I attached a file with two screenshots. On the left hand you can see the record before calling the PopUp and on the right hand you see the record after PopUpReturn.

The corresponding relationship in the dict.inc file is:

```
$this->parent_relations[]      = array('parent' => 'orga_vereine',
                                             'parent_field' => 'vereine_name',
                                             'fields' => array('kontakt_stamm_verbaende_art_id' =>
'verbaende_art_id',
                                                         'kontakt_stamm_verbaende_kuerzel' =>
'verbaende_kuerzel',
                                                         'kontakt_stamm_vereine_kuerzel' =>
'vereine_kuerzel'));
```

You say that the values in $select_array will be copied in $fieldarray by default. Is it possible that the key field values from the PopUp table 'orga_vereine' are additionally copied to the key field values of 'orga_mannschaften_kontakte' because they both have the same names?
