Subject: Re: Update 4
Posted by AJM on Wed, 04 Jul 2007 16:42:50 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

All information about popups is avalable in the FAQ:

What is a popup?
How to incorporate a 'popup' control into a form
How does the processing of a 'popup' form actually work?
How can you switch a popup between accepting single and multiple selections?

The value for 'foreign_field' can be any value from the foreign table - either the primary key, or any non-key field. It's up to you what you want displayed.

If you add 'destination' to $this->fieldspec in the 'files' object as well as the 'source' object, then the value for 'destination' should be given to both objects when a submit button is pressed. Once the value is avalaible in $this->fieldarray it can be made to appear in the selection string by adding it to the array in _cm_getPkeyNames.