This version includes an upgrade of the TCPDF library, and a few bug fixes.

updated std.help.inc so that the script id and script description are on separate lines.
fixed bug in 'std.add3.inc' which caused it to return the wrong count when inserting more than one record.
updated 'std.data_field.xsl' to copy across any 'class' attribute found with any in the area for dropdown lists.
modified 'include.xml.php4/5.inc' so that the reference to file 'style_custom.css' will be excluded from the HTML output if it does not exist.
when converting a selection string to or from an array ensure that the difference between a field value of '' (empty string) and NULL is maintained.
updated TCPDF library to version 5.8.013 fixed bug which caused the creation of a PDF file which could not be read. This was caused by running the initialisation code a second time after detecting a change in language, and this re-initialisation caused a corruption.
