Tony,

When adding a new record in theses pages

http://www.tonymarston.net/sample/person_add.php
http://www.tonymarston.net/sample/pers_type_add.php
http://www.tonymarston.net/sample/option_add.php
http://www.tonymarston.net/sample/tree_type_add.php

if at least one required field is left blank, after pressing the SUBMIT button
the following error message is generated:

Fatal error: Call to undefined function removeFromScriptSequence()
in /home/tonymars/public_html/sample/std.table.class.inc on line 3249

Thanks.

PS. If all required fields are filled the record is inserted.

Whoops!

I'll release the updated files as soon as I get home.

Tony,

In this sample page
http://www.tonymarston.net/sample/person_add.php
the file picker
http://www.tonymarston.net/sample/x_person(filepicker)_x

is not working.

It simply displays a blank page.

Perhaps it is not a bug but a security restriction.

In that a case a message explaining the restriction would be helpful.

Thanks again.

Fixed. Somehow I had used an old copy of one of the files.
