You have not update your include_path to identify where the 'includes' directory is located. Please refer to item #3 in http://www.radicore.org/installation.php

You haven't updated the CONFIG.INC file to replace '*' with your username and password.
Please read AND FOLLOW the installation instructions.

for the OP, just use notepad++ to rename htaccess.text to .htaccess, you can have a no name file in windows, it's no problem. This of course assumes you did put the path like step 3 showed you

The following steps could be proceed after install database.
Step 1:
open http://localhost/radicore/menu/logon.php in my browser, and error message occured as:

Fatal error: require(): Failed opening require 'include.general.inc'
(include_path='.;C:\xampp\php\PEAR') in
C:\xampp\htdocs\radicore\menu\logon.php on line 28

Instructions for this problem could be found in part three of http://www.radicore.org/installation.php
In addition, I amended php.ini In xampp\php\php.ini as follows.
include_path=".;C:\xampp\php\pear;C:\xampp\htdocs\radicore\includes "
If it did not work, I could the same thing in http.conf in Apache.

Step 2: create directory: C:\xampp\htdocs\demo\error_logs

Step 3: in \includes\config.inc, I configured

$servers[0]['dbusername'] = 'tony'; //in line 60: replace the tony with my database name
$servers[0]['dbuserpass']=''; //in line 61: replace the  with my password for accessing database

$GLOBALS['dbhost'] = 'localhost'; //in line 39:
$GLOBALS['dbprefix']= ''; //in line 41: $GLOBALS['dbprefix']= 'demo_'; is the original version

$GLOBAL['http_server'] = 'localhost'; //in line 79: $GLOBAL['http_server'] = 'local.radicore.org';
$GLOBAL['https_server'] = 'localhost'; //in line 81: $GLOBAL['https_server'] = 'local.radicore.org';

Step 4ï¼š open https://localhost/radicore/ and click on Proceed anyway if https is not supported in your server.

Step 5ï¼šlogin as

User = MGR
Pswd = password (case sensitive)
